

Dear OLLI Members,

We hope this email finds you healthy and doing well.

We want to officially inform you that OLLI has taken over responsibility for managing Temple's Personal Enrichment (PE) courses.

PE courses are targeted toward working professionals who want to enrich their lives with additional learning, and for retired people who wish to do the same. These courses were moved under the OLLI umbrella because a high percentage of them are attended by people 50 years of age and older.

Going forward, PE courses will be featured in a separate section of each OLLI catalog.

Some important differences to be aware of:

1. PE is not a membership program. Students pay a course fee to attend each course. They do not become OLLI members and cannot take OLLI courses unless they join OLLI. However, OLLI members receive a discount of 30% off most PE course they attend.
2. PE courses are first-come, first-served. They are not subject to the OLLI lottery system. There is a minimum number of participants needed for each PE course to run. If the minimum enrollment is not met, PE courses may be cancelled, and anyone registered would receive a refund.
3. PE courses are usually scheduled in the evenings or weekends, with a few exceptions of daytime offerings.

4. PE instructors are not volunteers. They receive some payment for teaching.

We will make every effort to only offer PE classes that do not duplicate the same subjects what we are already offering through the membership side of our program.

We are excited about this opportunity to offer additional special topics to OLLI members at a discount!

Thank you.
